For 20 years the Building the Heart of Successful Schools Conference has been a place for Wisconsin educators to gather and learn alongside their colleagues. The situation we are in with COVID-19 will result in some changes at the conference, but we are hopeful that our 2020 conference (and 20 year conference anniversary!) can be celebrated with you in-person. To keep the health and safety of all conference participants a priority the planning committee will work with the venue to closely monitor official guidance from health authorities and local governments in regards to in-person gatherings. Alternative virtual conference plans are being explored for the same dates (December 3 & 4, 2020), and the planning committee will announce by October 1, 2020 whether the in-person or virtual conference will be held. Registration cancellations and refund requests will be honored with flexibility. We know powerful ideas and strategies will be shared at the 2020 conference, and we can't wait to connect with you there!
